

General Disney

1. Spring Break is a busy week. Make sure your park reservations are set now.
2. My Disney Experience App is a must it is used for: Manage hotel reservations, Dining reservations, Lightning Lane, Mobile Ordering – Place order online, pay online and pickup at window, Virtual Ques,
3. Allow at least an hour anytime you are traveling between parks or resorts. Disney is magical but teleportation is not yet available. See previous point about crowds.
4. Disney Transportation is your friend. Uber and Lyft will pick up and drop off at parks.
5. Allow for 1 ½-2 hours to get into the parking lots and then to a park if you are staying off property. Allow for at least 30-45 mins to get from a resort to one of the parks if staying on property.

Parade

1. The parade route goes through Frontierland and Main Street USA (direction not known). Great places to watch the parade are the Train Station, the flagpole at the end of Main Street USA, the Walt Disney & Mickey Mouse Statue at the end of Main Street USA, in front of the Hall of Presidents, and in front of the Frontier Trading Post.
2. Know which side your bando is marching in the parade so you can see them.
3. People will be lined up along the route for at least an hour to see the big Disney parade which will follow the band parade. Some will allow you to stand in front of them for the band parade if you explain that you only want to see your child marching past.
4. The parade with the bands is before the normal Disney parade and is relatively quick. Do not wait to get set up in your viewing spot until the last minute or you might miss it.

Bandos at the parks

1. If you are going, schedule connect times with your bando but don't expect them to hang out with you most of the time.
2. Disney and Universal gift cards may be easier to carry than cash.
3. Make sure they are careful about the timing of Lightning Lanes if you choose to purchase. They shouldn't schedule too close to the start or end of their time at a specific park.
4. If you see groups of Bandos you know, stop them and ask to take their picture. Parents who cannot be in Orlando will appreciate seeing that their child is alive and having fun whether via social media or a text. They kids may roll their eyes but secretly they love it.
5. Talk to them about budgeting their money so they don't run out halfway through the trip.
